

LIST F: Samuel Mathews of 17th Century, Virginia

Samuel	Mathews	1624	Virginia Besides Capt. John West, two other brothers of Lord 28 Delaware came to Virginia, Nathaniel West and Francis West. Nathaniel died at West and Shirley Hundred about 1624, leaving a widow Frances, daughter of Sir Thomas Hinton, who married Abraham Piersey a rich merchant, and an infant son Nathaniel. After Piersey's death Frances Hinton married 3dly. Capt. Samuel Mathews.
Samuel	Mathews	1624	Virginia cont. from above-- patented that year. He had 32 "undertaken to transport multitudes of people and stores of cattle". Further, Samuel Mathews, one of John Utie's closest associates in Virginia, was the son of Tobias Mathews, another Archbishop of York. Samuel Mathews arrived in Virginia shortly after Utie. Both served in the Virginia Council and the militia; were among the largest tobacco planters and were leaders in the opposition to Governor Harvey in 1635.

Samuel	Mathews	1624	Virginia	Evidence suggesting that John Utie could have been32 recruited in Yorkshire lies in the fact that three officers of the Virginia Company at the time Southampton Hundred was organizaed were also from Yorkshire. Utie was recruited to Southampton Hundred and initially lived on one of the first five patents granted by its owners. Two of these Yorkshiremen officers of the Virginia Company were brothers, George and Sir Edwin Sandys; their father was Edwin Sandys. It is believed that the Reverend David Sand(ys), living on Hogg Island at the time Utie lived there 91620-1625), was a relative of the Sandys. The Musters of the Inhabitants of Virginia, taken January 23, 1624, records the Uties as living in the Treasurer's Plantation (i.e., George Sandys'), commanded by Lieutenant Edward Barkley who had been granted one of the first five patents by the owners fo Southampton Hundred. In September 1619, a ship sailed from Bristol with forty-five persons aboard for (Lt.) Barclay's plantation which was-- cont. below
